PROJECTS

F-Society Lan-Chat Current

Worked with a group of programmers to design and create a LAN-based chat application using socket programming and Java.

Using the TCP and UDP protocols, functionality including message broadcasting, private messaging, and file sharing were implemented.

Using the Swing library, created a graphical user interface (GUI) that is user-friendly.

To ensure the functionality of the application, unit testing and integration testing were carried out.

Fixed faults and problems users mentioned and offered technical support to guarantee the application operated without hiccups.

Recorded the project's specifications, design, and execution for future use.
